

Jewelry Greeting cards are the most inviting way to announce your wedding

Congratulations on your engagement and forthcoming wedding! What an exhilarating time ahead, full of anticipation and planning for your wedding event. The first detail will be spreading your wonderful news. If you are looking for the kind of card that is as inviting as your wedding ceremony will be, you'll find exactly that with a Jewelry Greetings card.

Planning a wedding, whether elaborate or intimate, is no small affair. There are so many details to consider. You'll need your list of the most special people in the lives of you and your betrothed, and you'll need memorable cards so that the announcement brings the receiver into your joyful moment.

Your choice of cards for your Engagement Announcement and Wedding Invitation will be a first and lasting impression of your upcoming special day. Our Jewelry Greetings cards deliver your message in a unique, three dimensional setting appropriate to each wedding related occasion. They are crafted from richly-textured Strathmore Grandee felt paper, and come with a gold foil stamped perforated line drawing of delicate flowers or dancing hearts that fold into a lovely ring for the recipient to wear.

Can't you just see the joy of the loved one who receives your Wedding Announcement with a Jewelry Greetings ring of flowers or hearts? Imagine your bridal party all wearing a textured white Jewelry Greetings "bouquet" on their fingers as a part of the day's fashion mode.

If you are a bride-to-be who's taken on the planning herself, or a professional wedding planner who wants your client's event to stand out from the rest, Jewelry Greetings cards accomplish exactly that. We'd love to collaborate with you to decide which Jewelry Greetings cards reflect your individual personality and style for inviting loved ones and expressing gratitude for exceptional friends.

We are Christiane and Oliver Hampel, artists and award winning jewelers who believe that a card of three dimensional expressions can say so much more than words alone can express. We have expanded our love of jewelry to offer a wearable Jewelry Greetings card as a way of connecting sender and receiver. Our cards put a ring on the finger of every female recipient, making her an engaged party to the event rather than a mere observer.

Even when the honeymoon is over and it's time to give thanks for the generosity of friends and family, a Jewelry Greetings card with wearable ring of Dancing Hearts is the perfect expression of gratitude that says, "Thank you for being special to me and for sharing my wedding day."
